Every year GMB (George, Miles & Buhr, LLC), a leading architectural and engineering design firm chooses a charity to sponsor during the Holiday Season. Fortunately for the Sussex County Head Start, Elementary and Middle School kids in need, GMB chose Clothing Our Kids to support with a Clothing Drive during 2023. GMB with offices in Salisbury, Baltimore, Seaford, Lewes and Ocean View, has been serving the Mid-Atlantic area for over six decades. Led by GMB staff member Cheri Hochstedler, the end result of the Clothing Drive yielded 35 items in both child and adult sizes.

COK Volunteers Janice Fowler and Diane Poletti provided a tour of the Volunteer Center during Cheri's delivery of the clothing and explained the process of how clothing reaches the school children in need. Cheri was impressed with the Center's organization and surprised that COK also supplies clothing to kids attending private schools. Those children may make the grades to qualify for needs based scholarships at these private schools but are unable to afford proper attire. COK's approach to learning is simple: let them dress for success.

COK looks forward to a continuing partnership with the generous team at GMB. Pictured below are GMB's Cheri Hochstedler and COK Volunteer Diane Poletti.

As Founder Mary Rio said: "It's not just about new clothes, it's about a new life."
