CLOTHING OUR KIDS (COK) PRESS RELEASE – AUGUST 2025 COK PROUDLY ANNOUNCES THE APPOINTMENT OF TWO NEW BOARD MEMBERS

Contact: info@clothingourkids.org

Clothing Our Kids, an organization dedicated to empowering children through access to the right clothing, is proud to announce the appointment of two distinguished individuals to its Board of Directors: Craig Jahelka, President of Draper Media, and Hugh Taylor, a retired Senior Level Executive at a Major Defense Contractor.

COK's Goal is to provide every child with the opportunity to achieve excellence, recognizing that appropriate clothing can significantly boost a student's confidence, sense of belonging, and readiness to learn. The addition of Mr. Jahelka and Mr. Taylor marks a significant step forward for COK as it continues its vital work in supporting the education journey of children in our community.

Craig Jahelka brings extensive experience in television broadcasting and digital media to COK. As President of Draper Media, he oversees a diverse portfolio of television and radio outlets. Craig's strategic vision has been instrumental in launching new programming in both English and Spanish, broadening audience reach. A past Chairman of the Maryland, D.C., Delaware Broadcasters Association, he is actively involved in local community organizations. His expertise will be invaluable in promoting COK's Mission throughout Sussex County.

Hugh Taylor joins the COK Board after a 35-year career in Senior Level Executive positions at a Major Defense Contractor, where he specialized in finance, sales, and general management of large business units. Since his retirement eight years ago, Hugh has dedicated his time to various non-profit boards. Most recently he served as Chair of Facets, an $8 million organization in Fairfax County, Virginia, focused on addressing food insecurities and homelessness. Hugh's robust business background and background supporting those in need will significantly benefit COK's initiatives.

"The addition of these accomplished individuals to the COK Board strengthens our ability to achieve the Goals we've set in place and further the charity's impact on the students we serve", Volunteer President Bob Blouin.
